One of the interesting features that engage the visitor's attention about most of our Pocahontas homes are the exceptionally fine gardens, profusely supplied with the staple vegetables. Our friends Mr and Mrs Tom Putterson of Edge W V. Mr and Mrs Tom Patterson, of Glade Hill, have a garden as good as the best, which is in its second year. Spring before last he grubbed a piece of the thickest brush, that had once been densely covered with white pine. A dozen or more large stumps were taken out and the brush rooted out, making a pile of roots and rubbish so long to their return Page Gay.
